Riad Sherif MD, CEO of Oculis, commented: "We are ringing the opening bell today in celebration of Oculis' public listing, which would not have been possible without the great support of our investors, our partners and the dedication of our employees. Listing on Nasdaq is a major corporate milestone, providing Oculis a robust financial position that enables the advancement of several clinical programs addressing medical needs in ophthalmology, including retina, dry eye, and neuro-ophtha diseases such as acute optic neuritis and glaucoma. We have recently achieved last-patient-last-visit in Stage 1 Phase 3 DIAMOND study of OCS-01 eye drop in diabetic macular edema, and results from this Stage 1 are expected shortly. We also recently completed enrollment in OCS-01 Phase 3 OPTIMIZE study for the treatment of inflammation and pain following cataract surgery, and results from this trial are expected later this year."

Anthony Rosenberg, Chairman of Oculis' Board of Directors, commented: *"I would like to congratulate the entire team on the successful completion of the business combination and Oculis' entry on the Nasdaq Stock Market. I would also like to welcome my new colleagues who have joined the Company's Board of Directors, and to thank my former Board colleagues for all their great work and accomplishments to date.
